

Old Man Winter

BOURBON FROM THE BLACK HILLS

750mL

The art of the blend is on full display with this latest imagination of Old Man Winter. A legendary label now available to the domestic market for the first time in many years. An amalgamation of bourbon from our vintage stocks at Preservation Distillery, this bourbon is inspired by the flavor profiles of long ago. Rich dark pitted fruits with hints of sweet spice, dusted anisette, and caramel coat the palate. A rich mouthfeel with a warm, lingering finish allows this expression to stand out in the category. True to our processes, each bottle is meticulously crafted and finished in our hand-dipped winter wax.

The latest vintage release from Preservation Distillery and Farm, Old Man Winter is a rarely seen bourbon, this expression being no exception. Old Man Winter is a boutique bourbon brand occasionally appearing in the United States except for those who may have found the bottling internationally. The counterparts to the brand include the likes of Very Olde St. Nick, Wattie Boone, and Rare Perfection bottlings. Having bottled for several decades, these releases are instantly recognizable from their uniform use of the same cursive script-style typeface and are highly collectible.
